Life After Broadcasting – The Story of Terri Michael & Lori Grant

Considered one of Canada's most accomplished and well-known radio broadcasters, Terri Michael has reinvented herself by taking on a new creative challenge – designing jewelry. Lori Grant, also a successful radio broadcaster, joined forces with Terri to focus on the strategy and growth of the business. It was an inspirational evening with plenty of mingling with fellow CWC members over cocktails this bold and enterprising duo provided insight into the challenges and opportunities they have faced in taking their careers in a new direction ...
